THE COUNTY

Whether it is a stroll through the quaint boutiques of historic downtown Riverside, an afternoon in Temecula’s wine country, or a round of golf on a world-class course in Palm Springs, Riverside County has something for everyone. Even the weather is wonderful, with rainy days few and far between. All in all, Riverside County is a great place to live and work.

With more than two million residents, Riverside is the eleventh most populous County in the U.S. and the fourth most populous County in California. The ethnic breakdown of Riverside County is 46% Hispanic, 38% Caucasian, 7% African American, 6% Asian and 3% other. The County spans 7,208 square miles, sharing its borders with Imperial, Orange, San Diego and San Bernardino Counties. There are 28 cities within the County.

Combined with a reasonable cost of living, Riverside’s multi-faceted environment of rolling hills, lakes, rivers, deserts and forests has made it one of the nation’s fastest growing counties for more than a decade.

Riverside County is conveniently located within a short drive to Southern California’s many cultural events, theme parks and tourist attractions, which make it an excellent alternative to the more costly and congested neighboring counties.

The County’s housing market continues to be among the most affordable in Southern California. In January 2013, the median price of a home sold in Riverside County was $229,000. Higher education facilities abound throughout the area, providing continuous educational opportunities for professional development.

THE COUNTY GOVERNMENT

Guided by a strategic vision created to provide and enhance needed services over the next two decades, the County is progressive and proactive. Technology and innovative business practices are utilized to remain on the cutting edge. Riverside County government recognizes the value of a qualified and diverse workforce, making it a priority to build an organization that reflects the progressive community it serves.

The County’s leadership consists of the five members of the Board of Supervisors who serve as both the legislative and executive branches of the County government. They are elected by district, on a non-partisan basis, to four-year staggered terms. The Board appointed CEO oversees the day-to-day activities of the County’s agencies and departments.

The County’s core business includes law enforcement, prosecution, probation, parks, community development, public works, public health, public social services, the County hospital, fire, housing, and employment and administrative services. Riverside County has over 19,000 employees across 50 departments and agencies. The 2012/2013 budget established approximately $4.7 billion in appropriations for the County.

OFFICE OF THE REGISTRAR OF VOTERS

The Office of the Registrar of Voters (ROV) offers a dynamic and challenging work environment and fosters a culture of openness, fairness, neutrality and participation, while valuing transparency, voters’ rights and the democratic process. The ROV administers all Riverside County primary and special elections, supporting over 875,000 registered voters, and operates with an $8 million budget and 35 full-time staff. During major elections, the ROV increases staff significantly, hiring over 300 temporary support staff and coordinating the efforts of over 2,100 volunteers to ensure the efficient collection and counting of ballots and the timely certification of election results.

A major challenge facing the ROV is the great geographic size of the County. With an area of 7,208 square miles and borders spanning from eastern Orange County to the Arizona border, some ballots must be transported over 150 miles to be counted at the County’s central processing center prior to certifying election results. The County’s diverse communities and geographic expanse offers exciting and unique challenges for the ROV.
THE POSITION

The Registrar of Voters is an officer appointed by the County Executive Officer who is tasked with conducting all primary, general and special elections. This includes the determination of priorities, registration of voters, the certification of election returns to the Secretary of State, and ensuring that election processes are in full compliance with County, State, and Federal legal requirements.

The CEO’s vision is that "Riverside County becomes known as the safest, most business-friendly and best place to live in America." The CEO has set three major goals for the County: Provide faster, better, and fiscally prudent public service; become the #1 business friendly county in California; and improve health and promote livable communities through partnerships, policies, systems and initiatives. Supporting this County vision and goals, the Registrar of Voters will work closely with the CEO, Board of Supervisors, and State and Federal agencies to ensure the efficiency, accuracy, and timeliness of the voting process and certification of election returns.

The Board of Supervisors is seeking a dynamic leader to harness the County’s commitment to the election process, and to maintain Riverside County’s reputation as a leader in California governance. The Registrar of Voters must be a sophisticated strategist and savvy tactician who can maneuver through the complex landscape of public elections and county governance. Competitive candidates will possess an acute awareness of the issues and challenges involved in operating within a highly visible, fast-paced and dynamic government environment. The Registrar of Voters must be adaptable, thrive on complexity, and be an expert collaborator/team builder who is committed to the democratic process.
