The Elections Division within the Office of the Clerk and Recorder provides comprehensive elections services for the City and County of Denver, including voter records, voter services, ballot operations, technical and logistical support, and election administration. The Denver Elections Division is a national leader and vanguard of elections administration, with a reputation for innovative and voter-centric service.

Denver Elections Division Mission Statement

"To conduct Denver's elections in a fair, accurate, accessible, secure transparent and efficient manner; to educate and encourage the public to participate in voting process; and to maintain accurate voter registration and election records."

Summary

On behalf of the elected Clerk & Recorder, the position of Director of Elections is responsible for the preparation and conduct of all elections held in the City and County of Denver; overseeing all logistics and operations involved in the election process in accordance with federal, state, and local statutes and rules; and advising in the establishment and evaluation of elections policies and procedures.

Essential Duties

- The Director of Elections leads a division comprised of multiple complex and technical departments responsible for the successful conduct of elections in the City and County of Denver with over 500,000 registered voters. The role is primarily strategic, operations, and leadership-focused, requiring experience and expertise in the field of conducting elections, elections policy, leading and managing employees to success.
- Day-to-day responsibilities include executive-level management of an elections organization within the office of an elected Clerk & Recorder, including the planning and development of annual and election-cycle strategic objectives, and leading and guiding election team members in the implementation of processes and best practices to successfully achieve those goals and objectives, over the various phases of the election process.
- Strategically advises and/or represents the organization's positions, initiatives, perspectives and... organizations positions, initiatives, perspectives, and interests with other agencies and departments, community and business groups, and legislative officials at the request of, or on behalf of the Clerk & Recorder.

- Cultivates, fosters, and maintains positive, professional working relationships with representatives within the office, from various agencies and departments, stakeholders, and community and business groups to gain their cooperation and support to further organizational or operational interests and objectives on behalf of the Clerk & Recorder.

- Provides expert advice, prepares, and provides presentations, on the conduct of elections and elections administration to internal and external stakeholders. Influential contributor for establishing framework and adopting policies for elections best practices.

- As an appointee, the Director of Elections will advise the Clerk & Recorder on all matters regarding the strategic planning, administration and conduct of elections, as well as legislative policies.

- Oversees the development of the division's annual budget; has fiscal oversight responsibilities and exercises efficient fiscal stewardship by authorizing and controlling expenditures within established allocations.

- Maintains external awareness, monitoring conditions, trends, innovations, and practices that may have implications for Denver remaining a national leader in elections administration. Incorporates systems thinking to help lead change that supports continuous improvement.
